

London Road Great Northern Station in 1881, showing its proximity to Sneinton.
The Old Coal-yard sidings, where the collision took place, lie south of the signal box in the middle of the map. There may have been alterations to the layout between the date of the accident and the publication of this map.